The procurement of digitalisation

As France's leading public procurement agency, UGAP helps public-sector players to make the right purchasing decision for a competitive and sustainable economy. UGAP offers high-performance solutions and services to local authorities, government departments, hospitals, and the medico-social sector. As a player in the implementation of responsible purchasing policies, UGAP stands out for its objective and measurable CSR commitment.

Computacenter has been a UGAP supplier for approximately 20 years, providing Technology Sourcing services to 21,000 of the purchasing group's public-sector customers across workplace, data center, networking, and software. With Computacenter's position in the IT sector and the breadth across various markets, UGAP's clients now have access to a range of technologies, available at the right time and at the right price. These services are delivered throughout France and its overseas territories.

Aligned strategies guarantee value-based technologies and services

UGAP's IT strategy is to continuously enable digital transformation within the public entities it supports. To ensure user satisfaction and stimulate innovation in the public sector, UGAP's role is to add value at every stage of the procurement process. Computacenter is ideally placed, as UGAP's Technology Sourcing provider, to deliver a streamlined digital transformation to UGAP's end users.

A relationship built on shared values

In addition to its commitment to public policies, Computacenter and UGAP are both committed to long-term sustainable growth by integrating solid IT and CSR foundations. This long-standing relationship is conditional to responding to public offers and in compliance with the public procurement code, with a selection of the best candidates based on their responses.

Our cooperation continues to thrive, with recent additions to our portfolio of services. This enables UGAP's clients to procure new hardware, software and services for data centers, networking products and services, and to redefine and streamline their software licensing strategy.

> "Computacenter has been a UGAP supplier for almost twenty years, providing Technology Sourcing services to all clients across workplace, data center, networking and software."

Our partnership journey

— Implementation of EDI (paperless exchange of orders, three-party quotes, etc.), drives for business growth.

— Major workplace refresh provides cutting-edge devices to UGAP's end users.

— Supply of network goods and services enables greater flexibility through automation and enhanced network programmability.

— Advanced campus, data center and wireless solutions support UGAP clients in their own network transformations.

— Continuous cooperation since 2005.
